

CARLEY POLOSKI
CREATIVE WRITING / DRAMA

What was your experience like in the Creative Arts program?

It was love at first sight when I saw the BU Creative Arts program online. And every class I've taken has only strengthened that love. I've had the opportunity to study my two favourite passions, Creative Writing and Theatre, while working with amazing professors and talented peers. The Department of English, Drama, and Creative Writing has offered me so many opportunities. I've gotten to develop my writing skills in many genres; I've worked under multiple professors to refine my acting abilities; I've studied literature from my favourite time periods; and even been given the opportunities to be a part of the Brandon community through public events.

How has the degree prepared you to get to where you are?

My experience with the department has been amazing. Each term brings new experiences and new people to work and grow with. I've found a great community to belong to. I'd recommend to every student to take some classes in English, Drama, and Creative Writing. They offer a wide range of skills that are useful in almost every degree, like public speaking and the ability to express yourself through written forms, and also to develop an appreciation for how literature has affected people throughout different ages.
