

Final Conference Schedule

Northern Plains Conference on Early British Literature

April 26th, 2018 (Thursday) Opening Evening
6:30 pm	Registration opens coffee/tea/water provided	Clark Hall Room 212
7:00	Brief welcome by conference organizers
7:00-8:30	Early dance workshop, led by Brandon School of Dance
April 27th, 2018 (Friday)
8:00 am	Registration Coffee/beverages, refreshments provided	Clark Hall 212
9:00 am- 10:30	Panel I Medieval Conversations Chair: Michelle M. Sauer, University of North Dakota “John the Baptist As Ideal Prince: Lydgate in Dialogue with Gower” Christina Di Gangi, Dawson Community College “Hang It All, Averroes, Whose Soul is it Anyway?: An Examination of Ibn Rushd’s Long Commentary on Aristotle’s de Anima And Its Significant Place, Then and Now” Robert E. Kibler, Minot State University “Sorcery and Witchcraft in Piers Plowman” Rosanne Gasse, Brandon University	Clark Hall 212
	Panel II The Nature of Text Chair: Eric Furuseh, Minot State University “Mephistopheles Confesses: Dr. Faustus, B-text, Act 5, Scene 2, Lines 91-103” Bruce Brandt, South Dakota State University “Nature vs. Nurture: Growing Up ‘Medieval’ in I Henry IV” Ann Hubert, St. Lawrence University “‘From This Time Forth, I Never Will Speak Word’: Othello as Dual Revenge Tragedies” Tanner Sebastian, Ohio University Chillicothe	Clark Hall 206

10:30-10:45	Coffee Break	Clark Hall 212
10:45-12:15	Panel III Gender and Sex Chair: Eftihia Mihelakis, Brandon University “Antonio, Antonio: The Battle Between Homoeroticism and Heteronormative Expectation in the Merchant of Venice and Twelfth Night” DeAndra Miller, Minot State University “Gendering Good and Evil: The Presentation of Vice and Evil in Paradise Lost Book I & II” Jenna English, Brandon University “The Glitch Queen: Queering the Fairyland in Sir Orfeo” Hannah Naylor, University of North Dakota	Clark Hall 212
	Panel IV The Evolving Nature of Nature Chair: Christina Di Gangi, Dawson Community College “Changing into ‘Something Rich and Strange’: Nature’s Transformative Powers in The Tempest vs. Those in The Twelfth Night, As You Like It, and Midsummer Night’s Dream” Eric Furueth, Minot State University “Trouble in Paradise: The Argument in Paradise Lost, Book IX” Emily Kroeker, Brandon University	Clark Hall 206
12:15-1:45	Lunch	Clark Hall 212
1:45-3:15 pm	Panel V New responses to old literature Chair: Bob De Smith, Dordt College “Up and Down--Exploring Ellington’s Musical Homage to A Midsummer Night’s Dream” Ben Roloff, Brandon University *includes a live performance “‘This is Hardly Comedy. This is Julius Caesar’: Sexuality & Shakespeare in the Comedy of Morecambe & Wise” Stephen Hamrick, Minnesota State University, Moorhead “Fantasy Exceeds Feminism: From Jane Austen’s Proto-Feminism to BBC’s Fantasy and Helen Fielding’s Postfeminism”	Clark Hall 212

	Brandy Robertson, Brandon University
	Panel VI Literary Landscapes Chair: Rosanne Gasse, Brandon University “Negotiating Patriarchal Landscapes in Ann Radcliffe’s The Italian” Audrey D. Johnson, North Dakota State University “Out of the Woods: Hybridity, Transness, and the Forest as Liminal Space in Jean D’Arras’ Mélusine” Casey Kohs, University of North Dakota “Solitary Journeys and the Hostile Literary Landscapes of The Wanderer and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight” Ashley Bartelt, Northern Illinois University	Clark Hall 206
3:15-3:30	Coffee and Refreshment Break
3:30-5:00pm	Keynote address: Dr. Randall Martin, Professor of English at the University of New Brunswick “Shakespeare and Ecological Modernity: wood, glass, gunpowder”	Clark Hall 212
6:30-9:00 pm	Conference Banquet	Prairie Firehouse
Saturday, April 28
8:30am	Muffins/Coffee etc.	Clark Hall 212
9: 00-10:30	Panel VII Shakespeare on the Big Screen Chair: Stephen Hamrick, Minnesota State University, Moorhead “Muse of Fire: The Essential Role of the Chorus in Shakespeare’s Henry V in Modern Film” Amanda Watts, North Dakota State University “Muted Voices and Stolen Glances: Possibilities for Ophelia in Adaptation” Julia Wold, University of North Dakota “‘The best in this kind are but shadows’: Midsummer Night’s Dream at the Movies” Bob De Smith, Dordt College	Clark Hall 212

	Panel VIII Reading Against the Grain Chair: Barbara Rose, Brandon University “Shakespeare’s Othello Viewed through Military Eyes” Christopher Brewer, Minot State University “Sensibility and Immaturity--Jane Austen’s Sense and Sensibility” Kayliegh Penner, Brandon University	Clark Hall 206
10:30-10:45	Coffee and Refreshment break	Clark Hall 212
10:45-12:15	Panel IX Animal, Vegetable, Mineral? Chair: Audrey D. Johnson, North Dakota State University “The Lithic Agency of Crystals & Magnets in The Revelations of St Birgitta” Michelle M. Sauer, University of North Dakota “Talk with the Animals: Knowing and Understanding Animals in Milton’s Paradise Lost” Sherry Helwer, Brandon University “Paradise’s Two Trees of Knowledge” Abigail Hysop, Brandon University	Clark Hall 212
12:15-1:30	Business Lunch Closing Remarks Conference Wrap Up	Clark Hall 212