RE: Evaluation of Teaching,
Winter, Spring, and Summer Terms 2021

WHEREAS the current Covid-19 pandemic has required faculty to make significant changes to course design and delivery; and

WHEREAS current capacity for online evaluation does not comply with the BUFA Collective Agreement's provisions on teaching evaluation,

The Parties agree to the following, without prejudice or precedent:

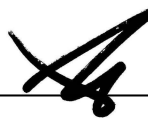

1. No Member will be required to submit to student evaluations of teaching for courses delivered in the Winter, Spring or Summer term of the 2020-2021 academic year. Members may opt for student evaluations of teaching if they so choose.
2. No data collected from student evaluations of teaching will be transmitted to Deans without the express permission of the Member.
3. For the Winter, Spring and Summer terms of the 2020-2021 academic year, the section of Article 11.2 requiring that "Each Faculty/Unit will work with the Centre for Teaching, Learning, and Technology (CTLT) to devise an instrument for use in soliciting student feedback" is suspended. In its place, individual Members may opt to use existing student feedback tools, develop their own tool, or opt not to solicit feedback.
