02.792 Practicum in Curriculum and Pedagogy

Course Description

Pre-requisites: 02.780, 02.781, 02.782, 02.783 OR permission of the chair, and availability of a faculty advisor.

This course will provide an opportunity for a graduate student in the Curriculum and Pedagogy stream to inquire deeply into an area of curriculum and/or pedagogy. The course will involve application of practical skills, curriculum theory, and research, gained in the core courses in the Curriculum and Pedagogy stream. The practicum will usually take place within a school or school system. The student will work with a faculty advisor and, if appropriate a field supervisor, to develop, enact, and assess the practicum.

More about this course (excerpted from Faculty of Education Practicum Guidelines)

The purpose of the Practicum is to provide opportunities for the student to integrate theoretical frameworks discussed in class and practical experience in a field-related site. Students in a practicum benefit most when they are engaged in roles that they aspire to in their career advancement. Normally, the Practicum involves 72 contact hours at the field site and is supervised by a person at the site and a supervisor from the University. Students who register for the Practicum will have completed all or most of the required courses in the specialization area (Curriculum and Pedagogy). Special consideration can be given to a student whose Practicum may involve more than one Field Supervisor or field contact person.

Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy Philosophical Framework

The courses in the department of Curriculum and Pedagogy are oriented to deepening learning as part of an informed teaching practice. It is designed for those who wish to advance their own pedagogical thinking in a subject area, taking as its premise that understanding of subjects through disciplined inquiry leads to new interpretations of the practice of teaching. Teaching is inherently responsive. It requires both a continued deepening of understanding of an area of study and a self-reflexive approach to one’s own teaching practice and identity. As a department, we aim to introduce this process in the undergraduate program. In the graduate program, the process is further developed as teaching experience and theoretical acuity increase.

Foundational Learning Outcomes/ Essential Learning

The foundational learning outcomes/essential learning for this course are largely determined by the student in consultation with their Faculty Supervisor. In general objectives include, but not limited to:

1. Reading and research into an area of interest in Curriculum and/or Pedagogy.

2. Application of learning from the core courses in Curriculum and Pedagogy to a practical situation.

General Description of the Practicum

Practicum Procedure

1. The student notifies the Graduate Studies Office of their intent to register for the Practicum in Curriculum and Pedagogy course, and is provided with a Practicum Supervision Form. The student should then meet with the Department chair to discuss the practicum and to find a Faculty Advisor. Note that any practicum is dependent on finding a suitable Faculty Advisor.

2. In most cases it is expected that the student will identify a suitable practicum placement and an appropriate Field Supervisor. If this has not occurred, the Faculty Advisor will assist the student in this process.

3. The Faculty Advisor will normally approve the practicum placement if the following conditions are met:
   - The student can demonstrate that they will be able to acquire the minimum of 72 hours of contact time.
   - A suitable Field Supervisor can be identified who will be willing and able to mentor the student and maintain contact with the Faculty Advisor on a regular basis during the Practicum. A Field supervisor with at least a Master’s Degree is preferable, but not required.

4. The student, the Faculty Advisor, and the Field Supervisor will meet together before the start of the Practicum to discuss individual responsibilities and expectations related to the practicum including the frequency of progress reports and final assessment process. This meeting can take place face to face or by email, telephone, video conference, etc. At the end of this meeting, the Practicum Supervision form is completed and signed. This form represents a contractual agreement between the three (or more) parties.
5. The student will develop goals for the practicum using the Goals of the Practicum form. This form will indicate overall goals, procedures and outcomes and will be discussed with the Field Supervisor and the Faculty Advisor, to ensure three-way understanding and agreement before the practicum begins.

6. The student is expected to keep a weekly log book/reflective journal and will be in regular contact with the Faculty Advisor. If the practicum is done outside of Brandon, this consultation may be done by digital means.

7. At the end of the practicum, the student will meet with the Faculty Advisor and the Field Supervisor to complete the Final Evaluation form.

8. The Faculty Advisor will submit a final grade of Pass/Fail when all requirements of the practicum have been completed.

Practicum Agreement Changes

1. Should any significant changes occur affecting the original supervision agreement, it is the responsibility of the student to notify in writing, the Field Supervisor, the Faculty Advisor and the Department Chair, who will forward this information to the Graduate Studies Chair.

2. The Chair of the Department shall first discuss any changes with the Faculty Advisor involved before action is taken. No change will take place without the agreement of the original Faculty Advisor.

3. The Chair will organize a meeting with the student and Faculty Advisor if this is deemed necessary.

4. If there is no suitable resolution, the matter will be taken to a meeting of the Graduate Studies Committee.

1. Course Work: Students typically will have successfully completed the core courses in the Curriculum and Pedagogy program. Exceptions may be made to this by the Department chair in consultation with the Chair of Graduate Studies.
