What interests you about volunteering as a Peer Wellness Educator:

About the Peer Wellness Educator Program:

By becoming a Peer Wellness Educator Volunteer you will have the opportunity to be part of a dynamic team of students who are committed to wellness initiatives on campus. You will be instrumental in providing wellness education to Brandon University students on topics such as sexual health, emotional wellbeing, physical health, stress management as well as other topics that the Peer Wellness Educators are passionate about and feel need to be addressed on campus.

Peer Wellness Educators support students by planning wellness events, activities and workshops to engage students in wellness opportunities.

Benefits to you:

Expectations:

- Passionate about Wellness
- Commitment of 2-3 volunteer hours per week
- Maintain good academic standing (2.0 GPA)
- Attend Peer Wellness Educator core training events
- Attend strategizing meetings
- Assist with planning and promoting wellness topics and events

- Development of transferable skills to the job market
- Experiential learning opportunities
- Mentorship and goal setting with Student Services staff members
- Letter of reference for your portfolio

The Peer Wellness Educator Program is interested in supporting students in achieving academic success. One of the expectations of all of the Peer Wellness Educator Volunteers is to maintain good academic standing (2.0 GPA).

Applicants' transcripts will be viewed to ensure academic standing is maintained.
