

I believed you when you said you'd always be my superhero

and I believe you
now

#IBelieveYou

When my son told me he had been sexually assaulted, I said the words he needed to hear:
I believe you, and it's not your fault.
Survivors who get a positive response when they tell are more likely to get help and seek justice.

Add your voice

Use the hashtag #IBelieveYou to add your voice and show your support for survivors.

Find out how at: ibelieveyou.info

